Rahman Ravelli is celebrating after again being ranked as top fraud solicitors in the world's most prestigious legal guide.

Last year, the firm was the only Yorkshire firm to gain a sought-after Tier 1 ranking in the fraud solicitors section of "The Legal 500"; which rates legal firms in more than 100 countries. It has repeated that achievement this year and gained an official recommendation by The Legal 500 for its fraud work in London.

The prestigious legal guide states: "The stunningly good Rahman Ravelli is at the top of the tree."

The firm's founder, Aziz Rahman, has been named an elite solicitor by The Legal 500 for his work in the fields of general crime, fraud and white-collar crime. It describes him as "first class".

Rahman Ravelli's ranking in the guide once again emphasises its high national and international standing when it comes to fraud, corruption and other types of business crime cases.

Aziz Rahman said he was pleased that The Legal 500 had recognised his firm's determination to remain at the very top.

He added: "The Legal 500 takes a very detailed look into the work of the legal firms it analyses so we are once again very proud to have been given such a prestigious ranking.

"Such a high ranking is never the be all and end all of what we are striving to achieve. But it does indicate that we are continuing to offer the very best legal defence when it comes to the fields of fraud, business and white-collar crime.

"Our emphasis is always on being strong, proactive and skilled when it comes to representing our clients. We work with determination and enthusiasm and it is pleasing to see this recognised by The Legal 500.

"This has been another successful year for us. And we are all determined to continue building on this success."
